New Year 2018

A time of retrospect. A time to reflect on things past and anticipate things to come. Time is our gift from God. But we want to be on His timetable and in His perfect timing.

This can be a time of reflecting but not dwelling on the past. Forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead, I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.

Our calendar goes from January to December. The Jewish calendar usually goes from mid-September to mid-September. As we begin our year 2018, it is the Jewish year 5778. Seventy years since Israel was reestablished and 50 years since Jerusalem was reunited. Both significant numbers in scripture. This year the United States has recognized Jerusalem as the capital of Israel.

My friend, you have to be sound asleep in the spirit realm to not know that we are living in prophetic times. God is moving and we want to be moving with Him. To be open and attentive to the leading of the precious Holy Spirit. Walking not in our carnal minds but moving as God leads.

I know there are many calls and distractions in our life. Just know that Satan will do anything to keep you away from God. But if you will put God first, He will bring all things into order. Stop rushing and start learning to live in the presence of God. It is joy unspeakable and full of glory. The days and times ahead are too perilous to navigate them without God.

Spend time with God. Learn to know His voice and be obedient to the path He leads you on. It will always be for your best. God always wants the best for His children. We do not want to be like the foolish virgins who run out of oil. Let us keep our lamps full and trimmed so we may be ready for the cry of the Lord. The cry to come home to Him and to our reward.
